As your business grows, you are continuously confronted with new challenges, and the need for a thorough materials compliance management program is an absolute necessity. Avoid the hassle and turn a this time-consuming project into a simple, money-saving convenience.

Less Work, Fast Compliance

Because we're accustomed to working with businesses of all sizes, we can assist large corporations with multiple facilities or small organizations with compliance needs in no time.

Ensure Employee Safety

With over twelve years of experience, Our top-selling applications are known for consistently outperforming other products in innovative technology, pricing, product success, and customer service & support.

We Provide Numerous Products & Solutions:

On-Site Chemical Inventory Assessment

The First Step! This is the only way for you to know how many (M)SDSs need to be managed. For companies that don't have the time or the resources, our two-person Inventory Assessment Team will document current chemical inventory. We believe in this first step so much that even if you choose not to purchase our MSDSpro applications or utilize our online services, we will help you import the data into another competitor's software program!

MSDSpro Applications

The most powerful (M)SDS applications available on the market!

We offer three different levels of applications to meet the needs of virtually any company. MSDSpro Classic, PlusWeb and Enterprise. Please visit www.msdspro.com for more information.

MSDSpro Hosting

Don't want to install software on your network? For companies that would like to purchase our applications but would like it to be hosted for them (off-site), our web-based Online Hosting service is the best solution. This solution is available for MSDSpro Enterprise only.

MSDSpro Applications Lease

Not in the budget to buy this year but, need a solution now?

Consider a lease for an immediate implementation, and purchase the following year minus your paid lease amount. Contact your Regional Manager for more information.

MSDSprovider

The best outsourced (M)SDS Management available! Leave the headaches to us! MSDSprovider integrates with any of our applications and online solutions. We will keep in constant contact with all of your product manufactures to ensure that your (M)SDSs are current based on your compliance needs.

Chemical Authorization – MSDSpro WORKflo

Get control of hazardous chemicals that are brought on-site! MSDSpro WORKflo was created with complete chemical control in mind. From cradle to grave, every chemical in your facility may now be accounted for, starting with the ability to control the chemicals in use.

MSDSpro Web Inventory Manager (WIM)

Do you need to distribute the load of chemical inventory management? Keeping product inventory up-to-date can be a nightmare. MSDSpro Web Inventory Manager (WIM) allows remote users to view and update inventory information through an easy-to-use web browser.

Initial Data Population

Have your database populated and manage it yourself thereafter! We contact each manufacture to verify that you have the most recent (M)SDSs and follow a Quality Control process to ensure that the data indexed is accurate. This provides you with a solution that is immediately ready to be implemented. By using the MSDSpro applications you can easily manage your own (M)SDSs thereafter.

MSDSpro Training

Learn how to utilize the tools within MSDSpro! MSDSpro offers web-based instructor led training and on-site training. Please contact your Regional Manager for available dates.

Custom Development

Customize any MSDSpro solution to fit your needs! Whether you need MSDSpro to tightly integrate with an existing application or require a minor change to our current offerings, our Development Team is here to help. They provide a consultative approach to customizing MSDSpro solutions to fit your current company processes and goals.

MSDSpro Authoring Services

Do you need to provide (M)SDSs to your customers? Our trained authoring professionals can create and update your product (M)SDSs. With MSDSpro's authoring services, you can rest assured that your document complies with all local, national and international regulations, including ANSI, EU, and other global formats.

Data Conversion

Is your current legacy data valid? If you have existing data in another format (Excel spreadsheets, old databases, etc.), let our experts make your purchase a quick, cost-effective success. We take even the most challenging data sources and smoothly import them into MSDSpro for our customers every day.

(M)SDS Distribution

Give your customers easy access to (M)SDSs! MSDSpro can host your supplier, raw material and manufactured product (M)SDSs and provide you with a searchable interface via the Internet. Easily link this interface to your home page and your customers can now have real-time access to all of your MSDSs.
